Danny’s Window

Level C / 62 words / fiction

High frequency words:
at, can, in, look, my, see, the, was

Before reading
- Look at the cover and read the title.
- Possible discussion questions: “What do you think Danny will see from his window? Do you like to look out the window? What are some things you see when you look out your window?”

Look through all the pictures
- Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book.
- Help students find the high-frequency word look.
- Help the children find the words that may be new to them: window, bus, school, and zoom. Notice that zoom is an example of onomatopoeia. Onomatopoeia is the naming of a thing or action by a vocal imitation of the sound associated with it (such as buzz or hiss).

Reading the text
- Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
- While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
- Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
- Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you noticed students using correctly at difficulty.
- Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “Can you find the sentences with exclamation marks? How does it sound when you read a sentence with exclamation marks? What are some things Danny saw outside his window?” Have the children read the pages that support their answers.
- Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “What else might Danny see from his window? What do you think is Danny’s favorite thing to see from his window?”

Word work
- Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
- Find the word zoom on page 8. What does that word mean? Why did the author use that word?

Rereading for fluency
- Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
- Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
- Have students write and complete the following sentence: “I see a ________.” Then have them draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written. Encourage the use of proper punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

Teaching Points:
Introducing new words; Cross-checking difficult words with pictures and story meaning; Noticing onomatopoeia; Rereading; Noticing punctuation (exclamation marks).

• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.
• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “Why is Danny sad at the beginning of the book? How does he feel at the end of the book? How do you know?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “How do you think Grandma Ruth feels when she sees that Danny is sad? Which cookie do you like the best? Why?”

Word work
• Have students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Help the students locate the feeling words in the text: happy, sad, and mad.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Write the following sentence on the board: “Danny likes to eat his _____ cookie.” Have each student copy and complete the sentence. Then have them draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written. Encourage the use of punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

FUN FACT
Smiling is contagious. So are our other facial expressions. It is believed that we mimic the facial expressions of the people around us because it helps us understand their feelings and state of mind.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Introducing words about emotions; Practicing the /uu/ phoneme.
Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “What are opposites? Can you think of some examples? What do you think Danny and Bee are going to do in this book?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss what is happening in each picture.
• Ask the children to find the pairs of opposite words in the text: big-little, closed-open, down-up, and out-in. Opposites are also called antonyms.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.

• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “Can you list all the times Bee and Danny do opposite things in the story?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “Can you think of some other opposites between Bee and Danny? What are some examples of opposites between you and Danny?”

Word work
• Have students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Help the students list the pairs of opposites previously located in the text: big-little, closed-open, down-up, and out-in.

High frequency words:
and, are, can, fast, her, is, run, this

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “Have you ever seen a cow? What do you know about cows?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss what is happening in each picture. Help students find the word this.
• Find the known words fast and baby.
• Find the new word calf on page 10. Explain that a calf is a baby cow.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you noticed students using correctly at difficulty.
• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “What does a cow eat? What sound does a cow make? What is a baby cow called?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “What else do you think cows eat? Where do you think cows live?”

Word work
• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Look for words ending in -ing: eating, resting, and running. Notice that these words are made up of the base word and the -ing ending.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have the children write a sentence and draw a picture about what a cow likes to eat.
• Encourage independent attempts to spell words correctly and the use of proper punctuation.

FUN FACT
Cows spend most of their day eating up to 80 pounds of hay or grass. They also like occasional treats, like a cut up apple or a slice of brown bread.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Cross-checking difficult words with pictures and story meaning; Rereading; Introducing base words and the -ing ending.
Danny’s Hats
Level B / 54 words / fiction

High frequency words:
a, is, it, my

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “On the cover, Danny is wearing a brown hat. What are the letters on Danny’s hat?”

Look through all the pictures
• As you look through the book, point out the color words: black, blue, brown, pink, red, and white.
• Help the children find the high-frequency phrase It is a.
• Help the children find the words: police, sailor, cowboy, fireman, and grandma. Each of these words has two syllables. Clap and count the syllables.

• Have students locate the exclamation marks on the last page. Have them practice reading those sentences with emphasis.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have students write a list of the items Danny added to the head in order to make the Bee mask. Encourage the use of proper punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

FUN FACT
Masks have a very long tradition in human culture. Early masks were used for celebrations, storytelling, and religious purposes.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Finding and clapping multisyllabic words; Rereading; Noticing punctuation (exclamation marks); Sequencing.
Danny, Bee and the Skunk
Level E / 71 words / fiction

High frequency words:
away, came, did, no, out, ran, run, that

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “Take a look at the cover of this book. Who is on the cover with Danny and Bee? What do you know about skunks? Are they friendly to approach? What do you think might happen with the skunk in this story?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book. Notice details in the pictures and use that information to better understand the text.
• Help the children find any tricky words in the text: chase, skunked, P.U., and rescue. Discuss meaning, word structure, and sounds you expect to hear in those words. Have children clap and count the syllables.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. While they’re reading, listen to each student and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and visual information to monitor and self-correct reading.
• Children should be able to read without using their finger to track words, except at point of difficulty.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.

• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “What are Danny and Bee really chasing in the beginning of the story? What happens to Bee at the end of the story? Can you guess what it means to be skunked?” Have the students read the page that supports each answer.

• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “Have you ever smelled a skunk smell? What does it smell like? Why do you think skunks spray a stinky smell?”

Word work
• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Have the students notice and locate the action words (verbs) in the book that have the -ed suffix: barked, looked, skunked, and stopped. This ending means that the action already happened. It happened in the past.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the child(ren) read the story again aloud, listening for phrased, fluent oral reading that includes appropriate pausing and intonation.
• Reread to solve words or think about ideas, then resume a good rate of reading.

Writing activity
• Have the students draw a picture and write a sentence about Bee getting skunked.
• Encourage the use of punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

FUN FACT
When frightened, skunks spray a stinky, oily liquid for up to ten feet from a gland under their tails.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Finding and clapping two-syllable words; Practicing words with the -ed suffix; Introducing action words (verbs).

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have students complete the following sentence with a prepositional phrase: “I like to jump ________.” (Examples: in the lake, on a trampoline, off the dock.) Then have them draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.
• Encourage the use of proper punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

FUN FACT
In the United States, grandparents make up one-third of the population, with 1.7 million new grandparents added every year.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Cross-checking difficult words with pictures and story meaning; Rereading; Introducing prepositional phrases.
Botanist Danny
Level E / 59 words / informational

High frequency words:
am, are, at, but, do, going, here, is, it, like, look, not, too

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “A botanist is a scientist who studies plants. What do you know about plants? Can you name a few different types of plants? How can plants be useful to people?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book. Notice details in the pictures and use that information to better understand the text.
• Help the children find any tricky words in the text: botanist, scientist, flowers, and poison. Discuss meaning, word structure, and sounds you expect to hear in those words. Have children clap and count the syllables.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. While they’re reading, listen to each student and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and visual information to monitor and self-correct reading.
• Children should be able to read without using their finger to track words, except at point of difficulty.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.
• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “What does Danny do to the first plant he finds? What plant does Danny find next? What is the third plant Danny finds?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.

• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Read the poison ivy poem in the book. Ask, “What do you think this poem means? What could happen if you touched poison ivy?”

Word work
• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Find the rhyming words in the poison ivy warning, “Leaves of three, leave them be.” The words leaves (more than one leaf) and leaves (to go away) are homophones, two words that sound the same, but mean two different things.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the child(ren) read the story again aloud, listening for phrased, fluent oral reading that includes appropriate pausing and intonation.
• Reread to solve words or think about ideas, then resume a good rate of reading.

Writing activity
• Write: “Leaves of three will not touch ________!” on the board. Ask the students to write and complete the new poison ivy warning rhyme. Then have them draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.

FUN FACT
Plants make life on Earth possible. They help regulate the water cycle, provide oxygen to breathe, and are the basis of the food chain that keeps all life on Earth supported. Hooray for plants!

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Practicing rhyming words; Finding and clapping multisyllabic words; Introducing homophones; Sequencing.
The Chickens and the Fox
Level D / 50 words / fiction

High frequency words:
a, and, are, come, for, here, in, see, the

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “Have you ever seen a chicken? What are chickens like? What do they eat? What do foxes look like? What do you think foxes eat?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss what is happening in each picture.
• Have the children find and clap the two-syllable words: chickens, going, looking, and away.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly at difficulty.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “Why do the chickens chase the fox away? What do you think the fox would do if the chickens had let him stay?”

Word work
• Have students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Help the children find the word yard by predicting the beginning and ending sounds. Point out the /ar/ sound in the middle of the word. Discuss other words that have the /ar/ sound (far, car, bar).
• Point out the contracted word don’t on page 12. Briefly explain contractions. Ask the students what two words the contraction don’t represents.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.

Writing activity
• Write the word yard on the board. Have each student write a sentence that includes the word yard. Then have the students draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.
• Encourage the use of punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Finding and clapping two-syllable words; Practicing the /ar/ sound; Introducing contractions.

FUN FACT
Foxes have a lot in common with cats. They both have vertical shaped pupils, sensitive whiskers, and spines on their tongues. They also move and hunt on their toes while stalking and pouncing on their prey.
Danny and the Four Seasons
Level C / 55 words / fiction

High frequency words:
be, can, I, in, is, it, see, the, what, you

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “What are the four seasons throughout the year? What season is it in the cover photograph?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book. Notice the changes in the yard for each season by asking, “How is the yard different in this picture?”
• Help students locate the word must. Ask students, “What is the beginning sound of must?”
• Have the children locate words that may be new to them: flowers, leaves, and season.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “Who is Lucky? How do you think he got his name? What do you think will happen to Lucky in this story?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss what is happening in each picture.
• Help the children find the rhyming words day and hay.
• Have the children find the words that may be new to them: braided, brushed, cleaned, and hooves.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “What happens to Lucky that makes him feel lucky? If you could take care of Lucky, what would you do first? Why?”

Word work
• Have students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Help the students locate and clap the two-syllable words: goodbye, lucky, pony, sometimes, and very.
• Help students find the words with the /oo/ in them: goodbye, hooves, look, and too. Discuss and list more words with the /oo/ phoneme (food, good, book).

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have each student write and complete the following sentence: “Lucky Pony likes to ________.” Then have them draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.
• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “Who takes care of Lucky? How does she take care of Lucky?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Rereading; Introducing rhyming words; Finding and clapping two-syllable words; Noticing the /oo/ phoneme in words.

• Possible discussion questions: “What is Danny wearing on his head? What do you think he is celebrating? What do you think Danny wants for his birthday?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss what is happening in each picture.
• Help the children find the high-frequency words make and run.
• Have the children find the words that may be new to them: belly, chase, and wishes.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “How do you think Danny would feel if he didn’t get what he wished for as a gift? How would you feel? Has that ever happened to you?”

Word work
• Have students locate the high frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Help the students locate and clap the two-syllable words with double letters: belly and happy.
• On separate cards, write each wish Danny has for his birthday. Have the students put the cards in sequential order to match the text.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have each student each write the following sentence: “Danny wants a _________ for his birthday.” Then have the students draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.
• Encourage the use of punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Finding and clapping two-syllable words; Introducing double consonants; Sequencing; Rereading.

Norman’s First Halloween
Level C / 53 words / fiction

High frequency words:
am, be, said, to, too, want

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “What are Norman and Danny dressed as for Halloween?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book.
• Help the children find the words said and want.
• Find the words that may be new to them: pumpkin, wizard, and witch.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you noticed students using correctly at difficulty.
• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “What costume does Norman try first? What costume does Norman try last?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.

• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “What other costumes would you like Danny and Norman to try? What do you think Norman should be for Halloween?”

Word work
• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Have the students locate the words in quotation marks on each page. Discuss what that means.
• Have the students find the words for each costume: pumpkin, shark, wizard, and witch.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have students write and complete the following sentence: “I want to be a ________,' said Norman.” Then have them draw a picture to match the sentence.
• Encourage the use of proper punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

FUN FACT
Halloween wouldn’t be the same without pumpkins. In 2014, the top producing pumpkin states - California, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania - produced 1.31 billion pounds of pumpkins!

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Cross-checking difficult words with pictures and story meaning; Rereading; Sequencing; Noticing punctuation (quotation marks).
Oh No, Norman!
Level D / 82 words / fiction

High frequency words:

• Find and clap the two-syllable words: Danny, water, floating, and playing.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “How do you think Bee felt when Danny put him in the water? What would happen if Danny got into the water? What are some other items that would float if you put them into the tub? What are some other items that would sink?”

Word work
• Have students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Find the words with the -ing ending: floating and playing. Notice that these words are made up of the base word and the -ing ending.
• Point out the quotation marks throughout the text. Briefly explain quotation marks.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity
• Have each student write and complete the following sentence: “The _______ floated in the water.” Then have them draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.

FUN FACT
When an object floats, it pushes water out of the way. That’s called displacement. But guess what? Water pushes back! The more surface area an object has, the more water pushes back against it, helping it float.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Noticing punctuation (quotation marks); Practicing words that end with -ing; Rereading; Finding and clapping two-syllable words.
Danny’s Garden
Level E / 84 words / fiction

High frequency words:
did, had, help, his, just, no, one, saw, you

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “What is Danny doing on the front cover? What do you think he will grow in his garden?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book. Notice details in the pictures and use that information to better understand the text.
• Help the children find any tricky words in the text: everyday, vegetables, garden, chair, fruits, and another. Discuss meaning, word structure, and sounds you expect to hear in those words. Have children clap and count the syllables.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. While they’re reading, listen to each student and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and visual information to monitor and self-correct reading.
• Children should be able to read without using their finger to track words, except at point of difficulty.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.

• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “How did Danny take care of his garden? What did Bee do that made Danny so upset?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “Why do you think Bee didn’t help Danny? How would you have felt if you were Danny? Was Bee’s solution a good one? Why or why not?”

Word work
• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Have the students notice and locate the action words (verbs) in the book that have the -ed suffix: watched, pulled, watered, asked, and yelled. This ending means that the action already happened. It happened in the past.
• Find and discuss the rhyming pairs: at-sat and chair-fair.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the child(ren) read the story again aloud, listening for phrased, fluent oral reading that includes appropriate pausing and intonation.
• Reread to solve words or think about ideas, then resume a good rate of reading.

Writing activity
• Have each student write and complete the following sentences: “Everyday Danny ______ in his garden. And everyday Bee sat in his red chair and watched.” Then have the students draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.

FUN FACT
Potatoes were the first food to be grown in space. In 1996, potato plants were taken into space on the Colombia space shuttle.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Finding and clapping multisyllabic words; Practicing the -ed suffix; Practicing rhyming words; Noticing action words (verbs).
Danny’s Rocket

Level G / 131 words / fiction

High frequency words:
came, going, how, made, take, too, was, white

Before reading
• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “What is on the front cover? What do you think will happen in this story?”

Look through all the pictures
• Using the language in the story, discuss each photograph in the book. Notice details in the pictures and use that information to better understand the text.
• Help the children find any tricky words in the text: spacesuit, science, goodbye, and stripes. Discuss meaning, word structure, and sounds you expect to hear in those words. Have children clap and count the syllables. Notice that spacesuit and goodbye are compound words.

Reading the text
• Have the children read the text independently. While they’re reading, listen to and prompt each student to use meaning, structure, and visual information to figure out words, self-correct, or improve expression.
• Children should be able to track print with their eyes, move quickly through the text, and read fluently while paying attention to punctuation, except at point of difficulty.

After reading
• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you notice students using correctly.
• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “Why did Danny want to make a rocket? Why did Bee ride on the rocket instead of Danny?” Have students read the pages that support their answers.
• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “How do you think Bee felt when the rocket started going down, down, down? How would you feel if you were on a rocket to the moon?”

Word work
• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Find and practice the words with the CVCe pattern: make, made, white, safe, came, and take.
• Find and discuss the pairs of opposite words in the text: up-down and big-small. Opposites are also called antonyms.

Rereading for fluency
• Have the child(ren) read the story again aloud, listening for phrased, fluent oral reading that includes appropriate pausing, intonation and word stress.

Writing activity
• Have each student elaborate on the text by creating a future episode of Danny’s Rocket where Danny and Bee make it to the moon. Then have the students draw a picture that corresponds to what they have written.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Noticing compound words; Finding and clapping multisyllabic words; Practicing words with the CVCe pattern; Introducing antonyms (opposite pairs); Rereading; Expanding text with illustrations.

FUN FACT

Putting on a spacesuit takes 45 minutes, including the time it takes to put on the special undergarments that help keep astronauts cool. The process of putting on a spacesuit is called donning and the process of removing it is called doffing.
Before reading

• Look at the cover and read the title.
• Possible discussion questions: “Have you ever seen a turtle? What do you know about turtles? Where do turtles live?”

Look through all the pictures

• Using the language in the story, discuss what is happening in each picture.
• Find the known words here and like.
• Find the new words: walking, sitting, and hiding. Have the children locate these words by predicting how the words begin or end. Clap and count the syllables.

Reading the text

• Have the children read the text independently. Encourage them to read it again if they finish before the others in the group.
• While they’re reading, listen to each student individually and prompt them to use meaning, structure, and letter cues at difficulty. Praise the successful use of reading cues.
• Make sure the children can match (with their finger) or track (with their eyes) each word of the text.

After reading

• Discuss the meaning, structure, and letter cues that you noticed students using correctly at difficulty.

• Literal comprehension: The answers are in the text. Ask, “Where do turtles like to sit on sunny days? What else do turtles do?” Encourage the use of language from the text. Have students read the pages that support their answers.

• Inferential comprehension: The answers are in your head. Ask, “Why does a turtle hide in its shell? How does the shell protect the turtle?”

Word work

• Have the students locate the high-frequency words in the text and practice writing them.
• Find the words that end in -ing: hiding, walking, and sitting. Have the children frame the -ing ending on these words with their fingers.
• Find the word shell on page 1. Explain that the sh letter combination makes one sound. Using magnetic letters, help students create new words that begin with the sh sound (shell, shoe, and shop).

Rereading for fluency

• Have the children read the story again, either independently or with a partner.
• Use this opportunity to listen to each child and again prompt for strategy use at difficulty.

Writing activity

• Write the word turtles on the board. Have the children draw a picture and write a sentence about what turtles like to do: “Turtles like to ________.”
• Encourage the use of proper punctuation and independent attempts to spell words correctly.

Teaching Points: Introducing new words; Rereading; Finding and clapping two-syllable words; Practicing words beginning with the sh sound; Introducing words with the -ing ending.

FUN FACT

Painted turtles can live up to 40 years.
