

July

July is Wild About Wildlife Month.

In the wild, tigers like to be alone.

If several tigers are together, the group is called a streak or an ambush. Tigers' stripes help them to blend into the shadows at dusk or early dawn. Tigers like to spend most of the day, up to 20 hours, sleeping!

Image from Tigers at the Zoo

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
1	2	3	4th 	5	6 	7
8	9	10  "Moo." It's Cow Appreciation Day. Thanks!	11	12	13 	14
15  I Love Horses Day	16	17	18 	19	20  National Lollipop Day	21
22	23	24	25	26	27 	28
29  Global Tiger Day	30	31  Mutts' Day	July 1st is American Zoo Day. On that day in 1874, the first zoo in America, The Philadelphia Zoo, opened its doors. Admission was 25¢. Zoos help us learn about animals, how they live, and how to protect them and their environments. Reading is another great way to learn about animals.

